WELCOME, MENTOR!

Thank You for Supporting a National Builder!

You are playing a critical role in developing the next generation of Nigerian leaders. By mentoring a young person (or team) through this project, you're not just helping them complete a challenge - you're shaping their character, building their confidence, and teaching them that they can make a difference.

This guide will help you:

- Understand your role and boundaries
- Support youth effectively without doing the work for them
- Navigate challenges that arise
- Foster values development
- Keep participants safe
- Know when to step in and when to step back

Who Are NBC Mentors?

Mentors come from all backgrounds:

- Teachers supervising student teams
- Parents supporting their children
- Youth pastors/imams guiding church/mosque youth
- Community leaders sponsoring local projects
- Professionals volunteering their expertise
- Alumni of past NBC challenges

What matters most: Your commitment to guiding (not directing) young people as they discover their capacity to solve problems.

What Makes a Good Mentor?

✓ PATIENT - Youth will make mistakes; that's how they learn

✓ ENCOURAGING - They need your belief in them

✓ AVAILABLE - Regular check-ins, responsive to questions

✓ HUMBLE - You don't have all the answers

✓ WISE - You help them think, not think for them

✓ COMMITTED - You'll stick with them for 10 months

You don't need to be an expert. You just need to care.

WHAT IS NATION BUILDERS CORPS?

The Big Picture

Nation Builders Corps (NBC) is a 10 -month challenge (March-December) where Nigerian youth ages 7-17 solve REAL community problems using universal values and resourcefulness.

Mission: Raise a generation of young Nigerians who embody values and solve problems without waiting for government or external help.

2026/2027 Goals:

- 1,000 youth participants
- 200-300 projects implemented
- 7-10 finalists selected for Grand Finale
- ₦3,000,000 in prizes awarded

How It Works

March: Registration (simple 10-minute form)

April: Values Training (youth study 8 core values)

May-October: Project Implementation (6 months of action)

- Youth identify community problems
- Design and implement solutions
- Document their work
- Submit monthly progress reports

November: Judging (experts review all projects)

December 17: Grand Finale in Abuja

- 7-10 finalists present projects
- ₦3M in prizes awarded:
 - Grand Champion: ₦1,000,000
 - 1st Runner-up: ₦600,000
 - 2nd Runner-up: ₦400,000
 - Special Awards: ₦200,000 each

The 8 Core Values

All projects are guided by these universal values:

1. Integrity & Truth-Seeking - "I go do am well, no shortcut"
2. Discipline & Diligence - "I no dey give up"
3. Wisdom & Discernment - "I sabi think am well"
4. Service & Compassion - "My brother's problem na my problem"
5. Justice & Righteousness - "E must fair for everybody"
6. Perseverance & Resilience - "Wahala no fit stop me"

7. Humility & Learning - "I fit learn from anybody"

8. Excellence & Craftsmanship - "If I wan do am, make I do am correct"

As a mentor, your job is to help youth LIVE these values, not just recite them.

YOUR ROLE AS A MENTOR

What Mentors ARE:

- ✓ AN ENCOURAGER - When they want to quit, you remind them why they started
 - ✓ AN ADVISOR - When they're stuck, you ask questions that help them think
 - ✓ A CONNECTOR - You link them to resources, people, and opportunities
 - ✓ A SAFETY MONITOR - You keep them safe from harm
 - ✓ AN ACCOUNTABILITY PARTNER - You make sure they follow through on commitments
 - ✓ A CHEERLEADER - You celebrate their wins, big and small
 - ✓ A SOUNDING BOARD - You listen without judgment
 - ✓ A VALUES MODEL - You demonstrate the 8 values in your own life

What Mentors ARE NOT:

- ✗ THE PROJECT MANAGER - They lead, not you
 - ✗ THE PROBLEM-SOLVER - They figure it out; you guide
 - ✗ THE WORKER - They do the work, not you
 - ✗ THE DECISION-MAKER - They decide; you advise
 - ✗ THE FUNDER - You don't have to pay for their project (unless you choose to)
 - ✗ THE RESCUER - You don't save them from every difficulty
 - ✗ THE JUDGE - You support, not criticize

The Golden Rule of Mentoring

"Don't do FOR them what they can do THEMSELVES."

Example:

WRONG:

Youth: "We need to build a bookshelf but we don't know how."

Mentor: "Let me do it for you." (Builds the bookshelf)

RIGHT:

Youth: "We need to build a bookshelf but we don't know how."

Mentor: "Who could teach you? Have you asked the school carpenter? YouTube has tutorials. What materials do you have?"

The difference: One creates dependency. The other builds capability.

WHAT MENTORS DO (AND DON'T DO)

Weekly Responsibilities

EVERY WEEK, you should:

- ☐ Check in with your mentee(s) - How's the project going?
- ☐ Ask: "What did you do this week? What's next?"
- ☐ Review their progress toward monthly goals
- ☐ Identify any obstacles they're facing
- ☐ Ask guiding questions (don't give answers)
- ☐ Encourage them if they're discouraged
- ☐ Celebrate small wins

Time commitment: 30-60 minutes per week

Format: Phone call, WhatsApp chat, in-person meeting, or video call

Monthly Responsibilities

EVERY MONTH (by the 5th), you should:

- ☐ Review their monthly progress report before they submit
- ☐ Verify that their report is honest and complete
- ☐ Sign off on their report (mentor approval section)
- ☐ Help them reflect: What worked? What didn't? What's next?
- ☐ Connect them with resources if they're stuck
- ☐ Alert NBC coordinator if there are serious issues

Time commitment: 1-2 hours per month

What You DON'T Have to Do

You are NOT required to:

- ✗ Attend every project work session
- ✗ Pay for project materials (unless you choose to)
- ✗ Do the physical work yourself
- ✗ Write their reports for them
- ✗ Solve all their problems
- ✗ Be available 24/7

Set boundaries. Your role is to GUIDE, not to do everything.

GUIDING WITHOUT TAKING OVER

The Power of Questions

Instead of giving answers, ask questions that help them think:

When they're stuck:

✗DON'T SAY: "Here's what you should do..."

✓DO ASK: "What have you tried so far? What else could you try? Who might know the answer?"

When they make a mistake:

✗DON'T SAY: "You did it wrong. Let me fix it."

✓DO ASK: "What happened? Why do you think it didn't work? What would you do differently next time?"

When they face a setback:

✗DON'T SAY: "Don't worry, I'll take care of it."

✓DO ASK: "This is hard. How are you feeling? What's one small step you could take today?"

When they're planning:

✗DON'T SAY: "You should do it this way because..."

✓DO ASK: "What are your options? What are the pros and cons of each? Which one feels right to you?"

When they want to quit:

✗DON'T SAY: "Don't give up!" (Too generic)

✓DO ASK: "What exactly is making you want to quit? Remember why you started - is that still true? What would make this easier?"

The Socratic Method

Socrates taught by asking questions, not giving lectures. This works brilliantly with youth.

Example Conversation:

Youth: "We can't build the library. We have no books."

Mentor: "How many books do you need?"

Youth: "At least 100."

Mentor: "Where do books come from?"

Youth: "Bookstores, but we have no money."

Mentor: "What other places have books?"

Youth: "Uh... homes? Schools? Churches?"

Mentor: "Could you ask people to donate books they're not using?"

Youth: "Oh! We didn't think of that!"

Notice: The mentor never said "Ask for donated books." They helped the youth arrive at the solution themselves.

Scaffolding

"Scaffolding" means providing just enough support for them to succeed, then gradually removing support as they grow stronger.

Month 1: You might need to walk them through planning step-by-step

Month 3: You just review their plan and ask clarifying questions

Month 6: They plan independently; you just approve

As they grow more capable, you step back.

SUPPORTING VALUES DEVELOPMENT

Your Most Important Role

More important than helping them complete their project is helping them develop CHARACTER.

The 8 values are not just project guidelines - they're life habits that will serve them forever.

How to Reinforce Values

1. CALL OUT VALUES WHEN YOU SEE THEM

When you notice a value in action, name it:

- "That was integrity - you told the truth even though it was hard."
- "You showed perseverance - you didn't give up when things got tough."
- "That was excellent work - you paid attention to every detail."

Naming values makes them real and reinforces the behavior.

2. ASK VALUES-REFLECTION QUESTIONS

During check-ins, ask:

- "Which value did you practice most this week?"
 - "Which value was hardest for you? Why?"
 - "How did [specific value] guide your decision?"
 - "If you acted on [value], what would you do differently?"

3. SHARE YOUR OWN VALUES STRUGGLES

Be vulnerable. Tell them:

- "I struggled with humility when I was your age..."
- "Discipline is still hard for me. Here's how I work on it..."
- "Let me tell you about a time I failed at integrity and what I learned..."

When you model values honestly, they learn values are a lifelong journey.

4. CONNECT VALUES TO OUTCOMES

Help them see cause and effect:

- "Your project succeeded because you showed discipline - you worked consistently."
- "People donated because they saw your integrity - they trusted you."
- "The community respects you because you served with humility."

Values aren't abstract - they produce real results.

Red Flag: Values Violations

If you notice values violations, address them immediately:

Dishonesty (Integrity):

- Exaggerating impact numbers
- Lying about who did the work
- Plagiarizing reports

Action: Have a serious conversation. "NBC is about integrity. If you lie in your report, you're not a National Builder. Let's fix this."

Selfishness (Service):

- Doing project only to win money
- Ignoring what community actually needs
- Taking credit from team members

Action: "Remember, this is about serving others, not yourself. How can you refocus on the people you're helping?"

Quitting (Perseverance):

- Wanting to quit after first obstacle
- Not showing up to work sessions
- Giving up on commitments

Action: "I know it's hard. Let's talk about what's really going on. What would help you keep going?"

HANDLING COMMON CHALLENGES

Challenge 1: "It's too hard, I want to quit"

DON'T SAY: "Don't give up!" (Too generic, not helpful)

DO SAY:

- "What exactly is hard right now?"
- "Let's break it into smaller pieces. What's ONE thing you could do today?"
- "Remember why you started. Is that still true?"
- "What would make this easier?"
- "Who could help you with this specific challenge?"
- "Even if you don't win, will completing this project be worth it?"

If they're truly overwhelmed:

- Help them adjust scope (do less, but do it well)
- Extend timeline if possible
- Find additional help (volunteers, partners)
- Remind them: "It's okay to struggle. That means you're learning."

Challenge 2: "We don't have money for materials"

DON'T SAY: "Let me pay for it." (Creates dependency)

DO SAY:

- "What materials do you actually need? Let's list them."
- "What could you use instead that's free or cheap?"
- "Who in the community might donate materials if you ask?"
- "Could you borrow what you need?"
- "Could you make it from local materials?"
- "What businesses might sponsor you for publicity?"
- "Can you do a smaller version with what you have?"

Resourcefulness is the lesson. Don't rob them of it by paying.

Exception: If the need is truly critical and they've exhausted all options, a small contribution is okay - but make it a loan or a "matching grant" (you'll give ₦X if they raise ₦X themselves).

Challenge 3: "Team members aren't helping"

DON'T SAY: "Do it yourself then." (Defeats the team-building purpose)

DO SAY:

- "Have you talked to them about how you feel?"
- "What did each person agree to do? Are expectations clear?"
- "Let's have a team meeting. I'll help facilitate."

- "What's stopping them from participating? Are there barriers?"
- "How can you motivate or re-engage them?"

If it's serious:

- Facilitate a team meeting (ground rules: everyone speaks, no interrupting)
- Help clarify roles and expectations
- Create accountability system (weekly check-ins, visible task list)
- Last resort: If someone absolutely won't participate, they may need to leave the team

Challenge 4: "Adults in the community don't take us seriously"

DON'T SAY: "I'll talk to them for you." (Takes away their agency)

DO SAY:

- "How can you present yourselves more professionally?"
- "Do you have a written plan to show them?"
- "Could a respected elder introduce you?"
- "What would make adults see you as capable?"
- "I can come WITH you, but YOU do the talking."

Then:

- Help them prepare a short presentation
- Role-play the conversation
- Dress professionally for meetings
- Bring their plan in writing
- Follow up with thank-you notes

If needed: Attend the meeting but sit quietly. Only speak if asked. Let the youth lead.

Challenge 5: "Our project isn't working"

DON'T SAY: "That's because you did it wrong. Do it my way."

DO SAY:

- "What specifically isn't working? Why?"
- "What have you learned from this?"
- "What could you try differently?"
- "Who has solved a similar problem? What did they do?"
- "Should we adjust the approach or choose a different solution?"

Remember: Failure is learning. The best projects often come after failed attempts.

Help them see failure as data: "Great! Now you know one way that doesn't work. What will you try next?"

Challenge 6: "We're behind schedule"

DON'T SAY: "You should have planned better." (Not helpful now)

DO SAY:

- "Let's look at your timeline. What's realistic now?"
- "What are the MUST-DO tasks vs nice-to-have?"
- "Can we simplify the project to something you CAN finish?"
- "What caused the delay? How can we prevent it going forward?"
- "Do you need more help? More time? Both?"

Help them triage:

- Priority 1: Essential tasks (must do)
- Priority 2: Important tasks (should do if time allows)
- Priority 3: Extra tasks (skip if needed)

Challenge 7: "The community isn't cooperating"

DO ASK:

- "Did you ask them what THEY need, or did you tell them your solution?"
- "Who are the gatekeepers/leaders? Have you engaged them?"
- "Is there cultural resistance you're not seeing?"
- "What's in it for them? Why should they participate?"
- "Could you involve them in planning, not just execution?"

Common fix: Projects fail when youth impose solutions. Projects succeed when community co-creates them.

SAFETY GUIDELINES

Your Primary Responsibility: Keep Them Safe

As a mentor, you must ensure youth safety at all times.

Physical Safety

ENSURE:

- ☐ Youth never work alone in unsafe areas
- ☐ Work sites are safe (no open wells, busy roads, dangerous buildings)
- ☐ Tools/equipment are used properly (teach them first)
- ☐ Youth have proper protective gear (gloves, closed shoes, etc.)
- ☐ Transportation is safe (no walking alone at night)
- ☐ Parents know where youth are at all times
- ☐ First aid kit available during project work

If project involves:

- Construction: Supervise tool use, inspect site safety
- Chemicals: Ensure proper handling, ventilation, disposal
- Transportation: Arrange group travel, avoid unsafe times/routes
- Community visits: Go to new areas in groups, daylight only

Psychological/Emotional Safety

ENSURE:

- ☐ No bullying or harassment within team
- ☐ Youth feel comfortable voicing concerns
- ☐ Failures are treated as learning, not shame
- ☐ Everyone's ideas are respected
- ☐ Conflict is resolved constructively

Watch for signs of:

- Burnout (too much pressure)
- Exclusion (team members being isolated)
- Inappropriate adult interaction with youth
- Emotional distress

Social Safety

ENSURE:

- ☐ Youth have parental permission for all activities
 - ☐ No inappropriate contact with community members
 - ☐ Youth work in pairs/groups (never alone with strangers)
 - ☐ Vulnerable populations (children, disabled, etc.) are treated respectfully
 - ☐ Photos/videos are taken with consent

Mandatory Reporting

IMMEDIATELY contact NBC coordinator if:

- ☐ A youth is injured during project work
- ☐ You suspect child abuse or neglect
- ☐ Youth faces serious threat or danger
- ☐ Mentor-youth boundary is violated
- ☐ Criminal activity occurs
- ☐ Project creates unexpected risk

NBC Coordinator: [Phone Number]

In emergency: Call local police/hospital first, then NBC

What If Something Goes Wrong?

Minor issues (scraped knee, argument, etc.):

- Handle it yourself
- Document what happened
- Inform parents

Serious issues (injury, threat, abuse):

- Stop project work immediately
- Ensure youth safety first
- Call NBC coordinator AND parents
- Document everything
- Follow coordinator's instructions

Your safety is also important. Don't put yourself at risk trying to help youth.

COMMUNICATION WITH NBC STAFF

Your Regional Coordinator

Every mentor is assigned a Regional Coordinator who supports you.

Your coordinator can help with:

- Answering questions about NBC
- Connecting you to resources
- Troubleshooting project challenges
- Mediating team conflicts
- Safety concerns
- Anything else you need

Contact your coordinator when:

- You're unsure how to handle something
- The team is stuck and you can't help them
- Safety issues arise
- Team wants to quit and you've tried everything
- You need resources (materials, expertise, etc.)

Your Coordinator: [Name]

Phone/WhatsApp: [Number]

Email: [Email]

Response time: Within 48 hours (usually faster)

Monthly Check-ins

The coordinator will contact you monthly to ask:

- How's the team doing?
- Any challenges?
- Do you need support?
- Is the team on track?

Be honest. NBC wants to help teams succeed, but we can't if we don't know there's a problem.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION

Team Conflicts

Teams will disagree. That's normal. Your job is to help them resolve conflicts constructively.

Common Team Conflicts

1. Unequal Effort

- Some members work; others don't
- Solution: Clarify roles, create accountability, have direct conversation

2. Leadership Struggles

- Everyone wants to be in charge OR no one wants to lead
- Solution: Rotate leadership, clarify decision-making process

3. Creative Differences

- Disagreement about approach
- Solution: List pros/cons, vote, or test both approaches

4. Personality Clashes

- Team members just don't get along
- Solution: Focus on shared goal, establish ground rules, separate tasks

Facilitation Process

When team asks you to mediate:

STEP 1: SET GROUND RULES

- Everyone gets to speak
- No interrupting
- No personal attacks
- Focus on the problem, not the person
- Goal is a solution, not "winning"

STEP 2: HEAR ALL SIDES

- Each person shares their perspective
- Others listen without responding
- You clarify/summarize what you heard

STEP 3: IDENTIFY THE REAL ISSUE

- Often the stated problem isn't the real problem
- Ask: "What's really going on here?"

STEP 4: BRAINSTORM SOLUTIONS TOGETHER

- "What could make this better?"
- Get ideas from everyone
- Don't judge ideas yet

STEP 5: AGREE ON A SOLUTION

- Which solution can everyone live with?
- What will each person DO differently?
- How will you check if it's working?

STEP 6: FOLLOW UP

- Check in a week later
- Is the solution working?
- Adjust if needed

When Conflict Gets Serious

If conflict involves:

- Physical violence
- Serious threats
- Discrimination/harassment
- Team member quitting
- Family/parent involvement needed

Action:

- Stop project work temporarily
- Contact NBC coordinator immediately
- Inform parents
- Document everything
- Follow coordinator's guidance

Don't try to handle serious conflicts alone.

WHEN TO INTERVENE VS. LET THEM LEARN

This is the hardest part of mentoring: knowing when to step in and when to let them struggle.

LET THEM LEARN (Don't Intervene)

When:

- They make a minor mistake (won't cause harm)
- They disagree on approach (and all options could work)
- They're frustrated but still trying
- Failure would teach an important lesson
- The problem is within their capacity to solve

Example:

They choose a project approach you think won't work, but it's not dangerous. Let them try it. When it fails, help them reflect and try again.

Why: Learning comes from doing, failing, and adapting. If you prevent all failure, you prevent all learning.

INTERVENE (Step In)

When:

- Safety is at risk
- They're about to violate NBC values (lie, cheat, etc.)
- They're stuck and can't move forward
- Team conflict is escalating
- External threat (adults exploiting them, etc.)
- They're overwhelmed and need help
- Deadline is near and they need guidance

Example:

They want to build a structure in a dangerous location. You say: "I can't let you do that because it's unsafe. Let's find a different location."

Why: Some mistakes have consequences too severe to allow.

The Decision Matrix

ASK YOURSELF:

| Question | If YES | If NO |

|-----|-----|-----|

| Is anyone at risk of harm? | INTERVENE | Let them learn |

| Will this violate NBC values? | INTERVENE | Let them learn |

| Are they truly stuck (tried everything)? | INTERVENE | Let them learn |

| Would failure be catastrophic? | INTERVENE | Let them learn |

| Have they asked for help? | INTERVENE (guide, don't do) | Let them learn |

When in doubt: Ask questions first. "What do you think will happen? Have you considered...? What's your backup plan?"

MENTOR SELF-CARE

You Matter Too

Mentoring is rewarding but also demanding. Don't burn out.

Set Boundaries

It's OKAY to:

- Have specific availability hours (e.g., "I'm available 6-8pm on weekdays")
- Say "I don't know, let's find out together"
- Take a day off when you need it
- Ask the coordinator for help
- Set limits on financial contributions

It's NOT okay to:

- Be available 24/7 (you need rest)
- Do all the work yourself (defeats the purpose)
- Spend money you don't have

Communicate your boundaries clearly at the start.

Manage Expectations

Be clear with your mentee(s):

- "I can check in weekly but not daily"
 - "I can guide you but I won't do the work for you"
 - "I'm here to help you think, not tell you what to do"
 - "If you need me urgently, call. Otherwise, WhatsApp is fine."

Celebrate Your Impact

You are changing lives. Even if the project doesn't win prizes, you're:

- Building their confidence
- Teaching them values
- Showing them an adult who believes in them
- Developing their problem-solving skills
- Creating memories they'll carry forever

That's HUGE.

Connect with Other Mentors

You're not alone in this.

MONTHLY MENTOR CHECKLIST

Copy This for Each Month

MONTH: _____

WEEK 1

- ☐ Checked in with mentee(s)
- ☐ Asked about progress
- ☐ Identified any obstacles
- ☐ Provided encouragement

Notes:

WEEK 2

- ☐ Checked in with mentee(s)
- ☐ Asked guiding questions
- ☐ Helped connect to resources if needed
- ☐ Celebrated small wins

Notes:

WEEK 3

- ☐ Checked in with mentee(s)
- ☐ Reviewed progress toward monthly goals
- ☐ Addressed any emerging issues
- ☐ Discussed values in action

Notes:

WEEK 4

- ☐ Checked in with mentee(s)
- ☐ Reviewed monthly progress report

- ☐ Verified honesty and completeness
- ☐ Signed off on report
- ☐ Helped them reflect on the month
- ☐ Set goals for next month

Notes:

MONTH-END REFLECTION

What went well this month?

What challenges arose?

What did I learn as a mentor?

Do I need support from the coordinator?

- ☐ Yes - I'll contact them
- ☐ No - we're good

MENTOR REFLECTION QUESTIONS

Quarterly Self-Assessment

(Complete this in June, September, and December)

1. How would I rate my mentoring this quarter?

- ☐ Excellent - I'm engaged and helpful
- ☐ Good - I'm doing well with room to improve
- ☐ Fair - I could be more involved
- ☐ Poor - I've been absent or unhelpful

If not excellent, what will I change?

2. Am I guiding without taking over?

- ☐ Yes - they lead, I guide
- ☐ Sometimes - I slip into doing too much
- ☐ No - I'm too hands-off OR too controlling

What's one way I can improve this balance?

3. Have I seen values development in my mentee(s)?

- ☐ Yes - specific values I've seen them demonstrate:

- ☐ Not sure - I need to pay more attention to this

4. How is our relationship?

- ☐ Strong - they trust me and come to me with problems
- ☐ Good - we communicate well
- ☐ Fair - we're cordial but not close
- ☐ Poor - there's tension or distance

If not strong, how can I build better connection?

5. What's my biggest challenge as a mentor?

Who could help me with this?

6. What's my biggest success as a mentor?

How can I do more of this?

7. Am I taking care of myself?

☐ Yes - I have good boundaries and support

☐ Somewhat - I'm stretched but managing

☐ No - I'm overwhelmed and need help

If not yes, what do I need?

8. Do I need additional support from NBC?

☐ Yes - what I need:

☐ No - I'm good

FINAL ENCOURAGEMENT

You Are Making History

In 20 years, when Nigeria is thriving, it will be partly because of what you're doing right now.

The youth you're mentoring today will be:

- Engineers solving infrastructure problems
- Doctors serving communities
- Teachers raising the next generation
- Entrepreneurs creating jobs
- Leaders building institutions
- Parents raising values-driven children

And they'll remember: "When I was young, someone believed in me. Someone took time to guide me. Someone showed me I could make a difference."

That someone is YOU.

Thank You

On behalf of National Builders Corps, the youth you're mentoring, and the nation they're building:

THANK YOU.

Your investment of time, wisdom, and patience is priceless.

You are not just mentoring a project. You are mentoring a life.

Keep going. Nigeria needs you.
